

Windstream Bargaining Report 2

9/16/2024

After meeting with the company in numerous sessions each day last week, we resumed bargaining today, September 16, 2024. Discussions have now moved on to economics and one thing is certain – the company has NO respect for you and is determined to pay as little as possible for the work that you do. We have also made progress in getting the company to back off on some of the things they are trying to take away from you.

Talks are scheduled to resume tomorrow, September 17, 2024. Look for additional updates and information as bargaining progresses
