

As you already know, CWA, IBEW and Verizon began meeting for a three-week period to attempt to negotiate the terms of a possible extension to the collective bargaining agreements that are set to expire in August 2023. We have agreed with the Company to continue meeting for the rest of this week and if necessary, to extend the negotiations into next week.

We will provide additional updates as appropriate.